QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER:

What central messages do you see in the stories, and how do they relate to your own strengths, interests, or values?

How have the characters' experiences with food and community reflect your own unique experiences in your life?

What ideas in the stories challenged your thinking or introduced something new? How might these inspire your curiosity?

From these stories, in what ways can shared meals help foster the community you want to build at Berry?

As you begin Your Berry Journey, which parts of the stories reflect the kind of life you hope to live? How might they guide your growth at Berry?
